THE MONTH OF MIXED MARKET SENTIMENTS.

As predicted January 2019 had absolute range bound movement and witnessed no gains in this month. The market saw a complete lack of motivation and market participants experienced a lot of uncertainty in the market.

The first day of February will start with the BUDGET. The planetary position for this day indicates that there will be nothing noteworthy in the Budget to make a huge impact on the market and markets may not find it extremely motivating. The impact of the budget will be very short-lived.

We will elaborate on the market sentiments amidst the Budget in our special newsletter, so stay tuned.

Astro Outlook For The Month - February 2019

February is once again going to be a range bound month where Nifty will witness complete range bound movements. The first half of the month will experience weak trading sessions as compared to the second half of the month.

In the second half of the month, market participants need to brace themselves as market volatility will see a sharp increase. Although this is going to be a mixed month for Nifty, there will be no concrete direction for market participants.

In this month, Bank Nifty and the Oil and Gas sector will be the leading sectors in the limelight. These sectors will provide the much needed push and support to the market to keep it moving in a positive direction.

Astro Outlook For The Month - February 2019

From February 5th onwards the pressure exerted on crude and Indian currency will see some release, although temporary, and will give the market an opportunity to breathe a sigh of relief. The journey of crude price cooling will be short-lived until the last week of the month. There is a strong possibility that this sector can drag the nifty upwards or make it hold on to its position.

Further notable events include the RBI Policy that will be released on February 7th. Indicators reveal that the policy may not make much of an impact and may not be motivating enough for the market.

Expiry

The expiry does not hold much promise and the month may end on a subdued note. However, there are strong indications of the market experiencing high levels of volatility before expiry.

Expert Recommendations

We advise our subscribers to stay cautious as the mixed planetary positions will not allow the market to take any kind of specific direction.
