Bulls are back, watch out for breakout! Nifty will chase previous peak!

In our monthly report for April 2018, we had accurately predicted that after witnessing market turmoil in the month of March, markets will begin to inch upwards and resume an upward trend in April. Starting from 10100 in the beginning of April, Nifty continued to gain at a positive momentum and rose forward above 10700 levels, for the first time since February 2018.

As per the readings, planetary positions indicated that the last week of April will start a bullish trend which will continue in the month of May. So, get set as we are heading for a bullish month ahead.

In my weekly report for the last week of April, I had clearly indicated a positive outlook for the Banking sector and expected a turnaround from the bottom. This prediction has also proved to be accurate as market reports indicate that a number of banking and financial institutions have gained momentum and closed on a positive note on the last trading day of April.

Outlook for May-2018

Enjoy Bull ride ....

My prediction based on the planetary confluence is that the first week of May will have good rollover and will continue the bullish trend that the market experienced during the last week of April. It will then get into a consolidation phase and rest for a while.

From the middle of the third week of May onwards, it will once again resume the bullish rally and from this point onwards market will start the journey to chase the previously created peak. The charts indicate that this bullish trend will continue till the end of the month, so stay tuned.

Sector-wise, we are of the view that stocks in banking and finance are likely to give a good run. The planetary positions do not point out towards any particular stock, but indicates the best performers which are fundamentally good stocks from all the sectors. The sector which has contributed to the bullish breakout like Information Technology will continue the trend in this month as well.

The month of May will also experience some weak days where the market will enter into a correction mode and will witness big intraday falls. But again, the recovery and buying will follow quickly in the subsequent days so the weak days will actually prove to be a good opportunity to take long positions. As this is a bullish month, we will see more bullish days which will have big intraday rallies.

Important Dates in May

May 18 - Key bullish day(Nifty and Bank Nifty)

May 21 - Key bullish day

May 14 - Key bearish day

Expert Recommendations

The month of May will continue to see the bulls come into play. The market will witness some strong bullish days, however, there will be a phase of minor correction and some weak days where traders can take advantage of it and take up long positions.
