MARKET INCHING TOWARDS THE END OF THE BEARISH PHASE NIFTY TO CREATE BOTTOM

In the past month the market witnessed a sharp fall in levels and market sentiments seemed to be at its all-time low. This is exactly what we had indicated in our Monthly report for August 2019. Our specialized Financial Astro services using the unique Time Theory has once again delivered an accurate market analysis, that too, weeks in advance, giving our subscribers the accurate information they need to make well-informed decisions and plan their strategies in advance.

Investor sentiments have been subdued over trade tension making headlines. The slow down of world economies and currency volatility has further fueled the fragile sentiments and forced market participants to take a backseat.

On the home ground, a lower than expected GDP has dragged the markets down sharply resulting in Nifty wiping out all gains made in this year. In August, it slipped below 10,862 which was the closing level on December 31, 2018.

Astro Outlook For The Month September - 2019

There is a huge capital loss in the worth of equities. Market participants were highly pessimistic with ongoing global tensions that could have an impact on global growth. Highly volatile trading sessions in the last 3 months saw investor wealth dragged down by more than Rs.11 lakh crore* (based on data collated on August 2, 2019).

Although, the government has announced a number of initiatives aimed at lifting market sentiments and positively impacting growth, market participants and investors harbor deep anxiety that is caused by the slowdown of overall economic growth both on the global as well as Indian front.

We will shortly be releasing our special issue focusing on the concerns of recession through our Astro economic outlook in our next newsletter.

TIME THEORY OUTLOOK FOR THE MONTH

SEPTEMBER 2019

The market players are battling sentiments of confusion, dilemmas, and anxiety and are unsure of how they need to proceed and which direction they should take.

The month of September will present the much-awaited trend change. The midcap is about to bottom out and will have a trend change for medium-term aspect. Gradually, the market will start resting at bottom and turning positive.

The first week, 03-04 September Nifty will have bearish trend.

05-06 September will be volatile day where Nifty may swing both the sides. Some recovery can be expected but again can get sold off or vice versa and will have broad trading range.

11 to 18 September Nifty will try trade range-bound where the probability is bearishness will be covered back. That will make trading range narrow.

Astro Outlook For The Month – September 2019

This month will also see the last phase of the ongoing bearish trend. As per the analysis based on our Time Theory, the 3rd week of September will see Nifty finding its bottom.

The time period from 18th to 20th September will see Nifty trying to move up and heavy short covering can be witnessed. However, as the overall market sentiments are going to be highly negative, it will be extremely tough for market participants to participate in this upward movement.

Our astro charts further indicate that during this upward movement the volatility will be very high. The upward trend will gradually start resuming and it will take time for the participants to restore their confidence and resume trading. In between some days will have very sharp upward movements as short coverings will be very strong.

The stimulus packages and easing of world trade tensions will definitely have a positive impact on the market in due course and it will eventually help in spreading some optimism amongst market participants. Though geopolitical tension may surface, there is a high likelihood that it will have minimum impact and market will not be affected after the third week of September.
