FINANCIAL MARKET TREND PREDICTIONS 2025

By Time Theory – Review of August 2025

Gold performed strongly in August, aligning with our earlier projections. The metal opened at ₹3,290 on 1st August, and as highlighted in our special newsletter, we maintained a bullish stance throughout the month. By 29th August, gold closed at ₹3,425, delivering substantial profits for our readers and subscribers who followed our guidance.

By Time Theory – September 2025 Projection

Bullish Phase (Till 12th September): Gold is expected to continue its bullish momentum until 12th September. We recommend that traders and investors book profits around this date, as the astro-cycles suggest an end to the strong upward movement.

Range-Bound Phase (15th – 30th September):

Post 15th September, gold is likely to shift into a broad range-bound pattern for the remainder of the month. Volatility will remain, but sustained upward movement is less probable. Traders should focus on booking profits at higher levels rather than chasing fresh positions.

By Time Theory – Broader Outlook

The yearly astro-cycle for 2025 does not favor a long-term bullish trend in gold. Only a few select bullish windows are expected during the year, while for the majority of the time, the metal will remain range-bound. Strategic profit-taking at elevated levels will be essential to maximize returns in this cycle.
